Report of Executive Director: Bruce Sowatsky reported:

- Michelle McElfresh presented on the 2021 Year-End Clinical Outcomes reports for CCRB-funded programs. A copy of the reports was previously emailed to the Board. There were 50 out of 52 agencies who reported on one or more clinical outcome goal this reporting period. Six agencies and fifteen goals were not reported on during this reporting period because agencies already reported on client progress in the mid-year report and/or did not have any clients who had the goals during this reporting period. Overall, the fifty CCRB-funded programs achieved 91.3% (158 out of 173 goals met) of their clinical outcome goals in 2021. In addition, Michelle reported on 2021 racial and gender data reported on by agency partners. The data indicates the percentage of children receiving services through CCRB funding for each race category is higher than their percentage of the St. Charles County population recorded in the 2020 United States Census data for all races except for Asian.

- The CCRB 2021 Annual Report is complete, and a digital copy will be emailed to the agency partners. Printed copies are available upon request and on the CCRB website.
- Bruce conducted interviews with the public school district Superintendents about the students' mental health needs. Results will be shared in New Business.
- Staff have been working on drafts of the 2023 Concept Paper and Application for Funding – New Programs. This will be discussed further in New Business.
- Work on the new CCRB website has been going well and it should be published in May.
- The CCRB staff began spring site audits.
- Bruce participated in strategic plan sessions with the Boys & Girls Clubs of St. Charles County and with United Services for Children.
- Bruce recommended the Board form an Ad Hoc Technology Committee to review proposals for the new grants management database software. Board members should contact Bruce or Nancy if interested in serving on the committee.
- Bruce began working on the 2022 Needs Assessment which should be complete in August.
- Bruce met with five agencies interested in applying for 2023 new program funding.

Old Business: No Old Business.

New Business:

- 2023 Application Process: Bruce reported the staff would like to add a Concept Paper step to the 2023 application process for new programs. The Board was surveyed, and the Concept Papers will be reviewed by staff. Eligible programs will be invited to complete the full application process. The Board will make final funding decisions. Ken Dobbins suggested a change to the Concept Paper in the question soliciting program delivery history.

A motion was made to approve adding a Concept Paper to the 2023 application process once the suggested change to the content is made. (M.S.P.: Dobbins/Elliott) – Motion passed.

- ARPA Funding Discussion: Bruce met with the County Executive's office, and they are still working on the final American Recovery Plan Act (ARPA) contract. ARPA funds will be kept at the county in a separate account and payments will be handled in the same process as the CCRB's current system with tax dollars. Bruce reported the agency partner and Board survey results indicate a priority to use funds in this order:
  1. Grants to assist agencies who lost funding during the pandemic
  2. Capital projects to improve service delivery
  3. Programs for youth negatively affected by the pandemic

Bruce reported the results from the school district interviews indicate the following increased instances with students and staff:

1. Truancy
2. Re-acclimation to school from remote learning
3. Disciplinary problems
4. Suspensions
5. Suicidal ideation
6. Depression and Anxiety
7. Staff to manage mental health and disciplinary needs
8. Social-Emotional programming
9. School-based counseling
10. Parent resources and support groups

Bruce requested the Board submit any additional feedback at their earliest opportunity so the process for granting funds can be finalized.
